1. Risk factors

An investment in bonds is suitable only for investors who understand the risk factors associated with this type of investment and who can afford a loss of all or a part of the investment. A prospective investor should carefully consider the factors set forth below, and elsewhere in the Registration Document, and should consult his or her own expert advisor as to the suitability of an investment in bonds.

The Group faces many risks and uncertainties in a marketplace that has become increasingly global. The variety of economic environments and market conditions can be challenging, with the risk that Norwegian may not succeed in reducing the unit cost sufficiently to compensate in case of weaker consumer and business confidence in its key markets. Price volatility may have a significant impact on the Group’s results. Higher leverage as well as changes in borrowing costs may increase Norwegian’s borrowing cost and cost of capital. Norwegian is continuously exposed to the risk of counterparty default. The Group’s reported results and net assets denominated in foreign currencies are influenced by fluctuations in currency exchange rates and in particular the US dollar.

MARKET RISK

The airline industry is undergoing a challenging time as a consequence of Brexit and strong competition. Future demand is dependent on sustained consumer and business confidence in Norwegian’s key markets.

A market place where capacity growth exceeds market growth will increase the risk of yield pressure. However, low yield stimulates new demand, thus growing the market further. This necessitates a similar reduction in the cost level in order to maintain profitability.

In the event of industrial actions, operations may be disrupted, causing inconvenience for passengers and affect financial performance.

Risk of changes in market prices, such as foreign exchange rates, jet fuel prices and interest rates which will affect the Group’s income or value of its holdings of financial instruments.

Interest risk

The Group is exposed to changes in the interest rate level, following the substantial amount of interest bearing debt. The Group’s cash flow interest rate risk arises from cash and cash equivalents and floating interest rate. Floating interest rate borrowings consist of unsecured bonds, aircraft and prepayment financing, loan facility and financial lease liabilities. Borrowings issued at fixed rates expose the Group to fair value interest rate risk. Fixed interest rate borrowings consist of aircraft financing guaranteed by the Ex-Im Bank of the United States, Commercial debt for aircraft and unsecured bonds. Borrowings are denominated in USD, EUR and NOK. Hence, there is an operational hedge in the composition of the debt.

Foreign currency risk

A substantial part of the Group’s revenues and expenses are denominated in foreign currencies. Revenues are increasingly exposed to changes in foreign currencies against NOK as the Group expands globally with more customers travelling from the USA and between European destinations. The Group’s leases, aircraft borrowings, maintenance, jet-fuel and related expenses are mainly denominated in USD, and airplane operation expenses are partly denominated in EUR. Foreign exchange risk arises from future commercial transactions, recognized assets and liabilities and net investments in foreign operations.

Price risk

Expenses for jet-fuel represent a substantial part of the Group’s operating costs, and fluctuations in the jet-fuel prices influence the projected cash flows. Fuel price and currency fluctuations, as well as hedging of such, are risks that can have a significant impact on Norwegian’s business and financial results. Sudden and significant changes in fuel price...
and foreign exchange rates could significantly affect fuel and other costs, and debt and assets denominated in foreign currency.

CREDIT RISK
Credit risk arises from cash and cash equivalents, derivative financial instruments and deposits with banks and financial institutions, as well as credit exposures to travel agencies and commercial customers, including outstanding receivables and committed transactions.
A portion of the Group’s sales, are paid for by the customers at the time of booking and Norwegian receive the actual payments from the credit card companies, or acquires are received at a later point in time. Delayed payments from credit card companies vary between credit card brands. The risk arising from receivables on credit card companies or credit card acquires are monitored closely.

FLUCTUATION IN EARNINGS
Demand for Norwegian’s services by passengers, in particular leisure travellers, varies over the course of the year, which causes Norwegian’s quarterly results to fluctuate. During the winter months, Norwegian’s revenues are typically lower than in the rest of the year, which is generally reflected in lower operating results in the first and fourth quarters. Norwegian’s passenger numbers are typically highest in the third quarter. As a result of quarterly fluctuations, the level of Norwegian’s aircraft utilisation and profitability fluctuates during the year. Globally, the airline industry is sensitive to cyclical changes in the economic environment, and demand for Norwegian’s services varies over the course of an economic cycle.

RISK OF LOSSES FROM AVIATION ACCIDENTS
Norwegian is exposed to potential significant losses in the event that any of its aircraft is lost or involved in an accident, terrorist attack or other disaster, including significant costs related to passenger claims, repairs or replacement of a damaged aircraft and its temporary or permanent loss from service. While Norwegian is insured against these occurrences, there can be no assurance that the amount of insurance coverage available to Norwegian upon the occurrence of such an event would be adequate to cover the resulting losses or that it will not be exposed to significant losses as a result of any such event in the future, both financial and reputational. Any such event involving Norwegian could cause a substantial increase in Norwegian’s insurance premiums. Airline insurance may also become too difficult or expensive to obtain, and there are limitations or exclusions of certain risks in the coverage of insurances.

OPERATIONAL DISRUPTIONS AND INTERRUPTIONS
Operational disruptions and interruptions range from delays to canceled flights and impose extra costs on airlines and adversely impact passengers. Reasons for such disruptions and interruptions, many of which are beyond Norwegian’s control, include computer glitches, difficult ground and weather conditions, accidents, industrial action, air traffic congestion, delays or non-performance by third party service providers and unscheduled maintenance. Disruptions to Norwegian’s operations typically harm Norwegian’s brand and reputation, and result in refund demands and requests for passenger assistance, all of which could have a material adverse effect on Norwegian’s business, financial condition and results of operations and future prospects and, thereby, on the Issuer’s ability to fulfil its obligations under the bonds as well as the market price and value of the bonds.

COMPETITION
Norwegian may experience competition on routes they operate from new and existing low-price airlines. Any changes in Norwegian’s competitiveness may effect the Company’s operating result and financial position.

The source of the information contained herein is Norwegian Air Shuttle ASA. Norwegian was founded in 1993, but only began operating as a low-cost carrier with bigger Boeing 737 aircraft in 2002. Norwegian are constantly introducing brand new aircraft to their fleet, as well as launching new routes and establishing new bases in Europe, Asia and the US.

In November 2017 Norwegian celebrated taking delivery of its 150th aircraft from Boeing since 2008. The new aircraft, a 787-9 Dreamliner adorned with the Jonathan Swift tailfin hero, a celebrated Irish author, arrived at Oslo airport in November 2017, closely followed by a brand new Boeing 737-800 aircraft. This is the last brand new aircraft the Company will take delivery of in 2017. Norwegian has introduced 32 new aircraft to its fleet during 2017; six Boeing 737 MAXs, 17 Boeing 737-800s and nine Boeing 787-9 Dreamliners.

AIRCRAFT

Norwegian has one of the youngest and modern aircraft fleets, with an average aircraft age of 3.6 years.

The airline operates an all-Boeing fleet with three aircraft types – the 787 Dreamliner for all long-haul, the 737-800 for all European flights and the 737 MAX 8, which operates flights between Ireland, Northern Ireland, Scotland and the U.S.

At year-end 2017, Norwegian’s fleet comprised of 144 aircraft. Several aircraft have already been phased out to accommodate newer, more fuel efficient and environmentally friendly aircraft. Norwegian will continue to renew its fleet in 2018.

Norwegian have 224 aircraft on order by year-end 2017. These include Boeing 737-800s, Boeing 737 MAXs, Boeing 787 Dreamliners, Airbus A321 Long Range and Airbus A320s.

In 2015 Norwegian was named the most fuel-efficient airline on transatlantic routes by The International Council on Clean Transportation (ICCT).

Norwegian has been awarded the ‘World’s best low-cost long-haul airline’ for three last consecutive years at the SkyTrax World Airline Awards as well as being named Airline of the Year at the CAPA Aviation Awards for Excellence.

Boeing 787 Dreamliner

The 787 Dreamliner is the most technologically advanced aircraft in the skies today. It’s also the most environmentally friendly option available, with 20 percent less emissions than other comparable aircraft.

The 787 Dreamliner also features a number of innovations that benefit passengers, such as larger windows and a more silent cabin. In conventional planes, the pressure in the cabin is set to simulate an altitude of 2,400 metres. The 787 Dreamliner is set at 1,800 metres. In turn this reduces typical “jet lag” symptoms such as headaches and muscle pain.

Facts about Norwegian’s 787 Dreamliner:

- Norwegian has 21 787 Dreamliner aircraft by year-end 2017.
- The 787-8 has 291 seats (32 in the Premium cabin and 259 in the Economy cabin), while the 787-9 has 344 seats (35 in the Premium cabin and 309 in the Economy cabin).

FLIGHT OPERATIONS
Norwegian currently holds four Air Operator’s Certificates (AOC). An AOC is an operational and technical approval issued by a country’s Civil Aviation Authority which grants the holder the right to conduct commercial flights.

Norwegian has been granted two AOCs by the Civil Aviation Authority in Norway. One is for Norwegian Air Norway (NAN), which operates from the company’s Scandinavian bases, while the other is for Norwegian Air Shuttle (NAS), which operates routes outside of Scandinavia.

Norwegian has also been granted an Irish AOC for its subsidiary Norwegian Air International Limited (NAI), which is based in Dublin. The company’s UK subsidiary based in London, Norwegian UK, also holds a UK AOC.

AIRCRAFT MAINTENANCE
The Boeing 737 fleet is operated by the Parent Company (NAS) and its fully owned subsidiary Norwegian Air Norway (NAN), Norwegian Air International (NAI) and Norwegian UK (NUK). Norwegian Air Shuttle (NAS) operates the Boeing 787-9 fleet.

Each individual operator has its own Air Operator Certificate (AOC) with its respective civil aviation authority oversight and approval. Each AOC must have a civil aviation authority approved maintenance organization (CAMO) and maintenance program (AMP).

NAS and NAN manage their own maintenance operations from the technical bases at Oslo Gardermoen Airport. NAI manages its maintenance operations from its technical base in Dublin, Ireland. NUK manages its maintenance operations from its technical base in London, UK.

Continuing Airworthiness activities – activities that keep the aircraft suitable for safe flights – for the 787-9 fleet are subcontracted to Boeing Fleet Technical Management (Boeing FTM). Control and oversight of the activities is performed by Norwegian Air Shuttle Maintenance operations in addition to civil aviation authorities.

Major airframe as well as workshop maintenance is performed by external sources subject to approval by the European Aviation Safety Agency (EASA) and by the national aviation authorities.

Airframe (base) maintenance for the 737 fleet is currently carried out by Lufthansa Technik in Budapest, Hungary. Lufthansa Technik and Boeing are undertaking engine and component workshop maintenance.

Airframe maintenance for the fleet of 787-9 is currently carried out by British Airways, NAS and Monarch.

Rolls Royce UK currently carries out engine maintenance.

All maintenance, planning and follow-up activities, both internally and externally, are performed according to both the manufacturers’ requirements and additional internal requirements, and are in full compliance with international authority regulations. The Group carries out initial quality approval, as well as continuously monitoring all maintenance suppliers.

All supplier contracts are subject to approval and monitoring by the national aviation authorities.

TRAFFIC DEVELOPMENT
8.07 million passengers travelled with Norwegian in the fourth quarter of 2017, compared to 7.18 million in the fourth quarter of 2016, an increase of 12%. Production (ASK) increased by 30% and passenger traffic (RPK) increased by 30%. The load factor was 85.3%, a reduction of 0.5 p.p. compared to fourth quarter last year.
At the end of the quarter, the total fleet including aircraft on maintenance and excluding wetlease comprised 145 aircraft, excluding 4 aircrafts on external lease. The Group utilized every operational aircraft on average 11.4 block hours per day, compared to 11.2 in the fourth quarter last year.

The total number of passengers flown in January 2018 was 2,333,932 compared to 2,110,576 last year, an increase of 223,356 passengers (11%).

Compared to the same period last year:
- Total passenger traffic (RPK) increased by 29%
- Total capacity (ASK) increased by 30%
- The load factor was 82.0%, down 1.0 p.p.

During the third quarter 2017, Norwegian launched 14 new intercontinental routes, including Singapore, Denver and Seattle as new destinations. Other highlights included the Company’s British subsidiary, Norwegian Air UK, receiving a US Foreign Air Carrier Permit and the launch of a partnership with easyJet. Together with UNICEF, Norwegian conducted a humanitarian aid flight with a brand-new Dreamliner, carrying aid for 300,000 children in Yemen. This is the fourth humanitarian flight in four years.

Norwegian offers more than 500 routes to over 150 destinations:
INVESTMENTS
The Group’s aircraft fleet consist of leased aircraft and owned aircraft, whereof the Group has 224 owned and leased aircraft on firm order with future delivery. In accordance with airline industry market practice the total order is not fully financed. The financing will be secured on a periodic basis, the size and timing depending on the schedule of aircraft delivery and market conditions. The table below shows the expected timeline of future deliveries of aircraft. Prepayments to aircraft manufacturers on future aircraft deliveries are financed by internal and external funds.

Adding 25 new aircraft to own operations in 2018

Norwegian has historically utilized aircraft financing institutions, like the Export-Import Bank of the United States Bank (Ex-Im), as its primary funding source in relation to aircraft acquisitions in addition to the US Capital market by way of Private Placements, EETC and sale and leaseback arrangements. Norwegian is dependent on access to one of these or other financing forms to finance the delivery of aircraft. The Group’s financing policy includes AFIC and European Export Credit agencies for 2018.

MARKET
Norwegian operates within a highly competitive industry. Norwegian’s competitive environment may be disrupted as new entrants and/or alliances expand, airlines consolidate, or alliances and/or joint businesses gain competitive advantage over Norwegian’s business. Airlines compete principally in terms of ticket price, service, frequency, punctuality, safety, brand recognition, passenger loyalty and other service-related issues. Norwegian are exposed to competition on itineraries between individual cities as well as on one-stop itineraries since passengers can choose from a number of different connecting options, especially in the long-haul markets. Within the Nordic market, SAS and Finnair are the main competitors. Within the European short-haul and medium-haul markets, Norwegian compete with a number of traditional flag carriers as well as low-fare and charter airlines, such as Lufthansa, SAS, British Airways, Ryanair and Easy Jet. Within the long-haul market to Asia and the US, Norwegian mainly competes with a number of traditional flag carriers, such as Lufthansa, Air France, KLM, British Airways, Finnair, Thai Airways and other Middle Eastern and Asian carriers.
In local markets, airlines also face competition from other sources of transportation, such as trains, buses and cars. In the business segment Norwegian may also face competition from alternatives to business travel such as videoconferencing and other methods of electronic communication as these technologies continue to develop and become more widely used.

The historical financial information for the annual reports 2016 and 2015 has been audited. The historical financial information for the interim reports has not been audited.

The Norwegian Group disclosed comments in note 27 to the Annual Financial Statements for 2016 relating to indications from the Central Tax Office for Large Enterprises, that the rules on contingent tax-free transfers within a group does not apply to the transfer of business in 2014. In 2017, Norwegian received draft reassessment proposals from the tax office regarding other business transfers carried out in 2013 and 2014, in which it argues that tax-free transfers within a group does not apply to the business restructuring carried out in this period.

Norwegian and its tax advisor are still of the opinion that the reassessments for 2013 and the proposed reassessment for 2013 and 2014 by the tax office are without merit and has thus not made any provisions for any potential tax claim in its interim financial statements for the fourth quarter and full year 2017. The company has concluded that the possibility of any outflow in settlement is remote. The 2013 reassessments have been appealed.

Other than the above mentioned there are no governmental, legal or arbitration proceedings (including any such proceedings which are pending or threatened of which the Issuer is aware), during a period covering at least the previous 12 months which may have, or have had in the recent past, significant effects on the Issuer and/or Group’s financial position or profitability.

In December 2017, the Company received a request for information from the Financial Supervisory Authority in Norway (Finanstilsynet / "FT") regarding certain items in the financial statements for 2016 and the half yearly report for the first half of 2017. Norwegian replied to the request and as a result, agreements have been reached on most of the topics raised by FT without significant impact on the financial reports published by the Company but with some agreed improvements and additional information to be provided in future financial reporting. The Company is still in dialogue with FT regarding the accounting treatment of the Company’s investment in Norwegian Finans Holding ASA (NOFI), specifically whether Norwegian still has significant influence over the investee. This assessment is not finalized at the time of publishing this quarterly report.

In our view, we do not have significant influence in NOFI. If, however, a final conclusion should be that such influence exists, the equity method of accounting according to IAS 28 would be applied to the investment. As of December 31, 2017, this would result in a reduction of the recognized value of the investment by NOK 1,993 million with a corresponding decrease in end balance equity. Effects of a change back to IAS 28 would also reverse financial gains in net profits of NOK 1,657 million, reverse fair value changes recorded in other comprehensive income of NOK 498 million and increase share of profit from associated companies by NOK 163 million.

In January 2018, Norwegian Air Shuttle ASA completed a tap issue of EUR 65 million in the outstanding EUR 185 million senior unsecured bonds issue with ISIN NO 001 0753437 and maturity in December 2019 (NAS07). Following the tap issue, the new outstanding amount in NAS07 will be EUR 250 million. Net proceeds from the tap issue will be used for general corporate purposes and further growth of the Group. In connection with the placement of the tap issue, the Company has repurchased bonds with nominal value of NOK 171.5 million in the existing bond issue NAS06 (ISIN: NO 001 0736549) with maturity in May 2018.

Norwegian and Widerøe signed an interline agreement on January 26, 2018. The agreement includes all Widerøe’s Public Service Obligation routes in Norway and Norwegian’s domestic routes in Norway. Initially, the flights will only be available for purchase through Widerøe’s channels, with an estimated launch during the first half of March.

On January 27, 2018 Norwegian Air Argentina (NAA) received the Air Services Operator Certificate (AOC) from the National Government. The document recognizes the company as a commercial airline, and certifies that it complies with safety and quality standards to carry out aeronautical operations and activities, in accordance with the law of the Argentine Republic. Other than this there is no significant change in the financial or trading position of the Group which has occurred since the end of the last financial period for which either audited financial information or interim financial information have been published.

There are no recent events particular to the Issuer which is to a material extent relevant to the evaluation of the Issuer’s solvency.
